

Culture

The Arts of Culture

The culture of art can bring communities together regardless of their age nationality or religion. For some its way they express their emotions. Art can lead to new opportunities in life and can create job for many people in the planet as well.

This photo shows a mural of someone's art

Cultural food

Because most of us are from different cultures we probably ate different meals from the cultures we grew up in. Most cultures have their own meals like Filipino food, Mexican food, and Armenian food. For example, these may have foods that the others don't or the same but cooked differently. Some of the cultures' foods may even be more spicy, salty, sweet, or sour.

This is an example of many different types of food

Cultural dances

Dance is a good skill to learn and if its a cultural dance even better . It's a good way to get to know others in the same community as you. It can also be a good way to know others cultures traditions and what it symbolizes. It's a way of people coming together.

This is a mexican dance called folklorico

Cultural beliefs

Cultural beliefs is what a culture believes. Some cultures believe in their religion, loyalty, customs, and many more. A big cultural belief is behavior and how people appear. There are beliefs that bring out their traditions and clothing. It brings people closer as a community. Rituals and ceremonies are an important part of their cultural beliefs.

This is a wheel of different cultural beliefs

Cultural languages

Language is a big part of culture. For example your grandparent first language is your culture and that language then get passed on to your parents and on. The first language in most cases is your culture. Because there are so many cultures in the us english is a second language for most.

Language